Seminar intention: to continue the Gonstead experience diving into the Sympathetic and Parasympathetic differentiation in the more complex case management trying to follow the step of the master Dr. Gonstead. Great emphasis will be given to x-ray analysis and full-spine x-ray marking.

Statement from Dr. Cecchi: This seminar will continue the work started with the 7 seminars series. It is intended for the doctors who have taken the full series and it is open to any doctor who has at least the basic Gonstead knowledge to be able to mark a full spine x-ray, run a Nervoscope and know how to adjust on the various Gonstead equipment. To many times I have encountered "Gonstead doctors" who do not take full spine x-rays and do not use the Nervoscope. This seminar is intended to review and possibly become more proficient in applying the FULL Gonstead method for the doctors who know the work but want to improve on their skills and their knowledge.

My personal development as a Gonstead practitioner started with 4 years in Dr. Thatcher's clinic where I first observed and then learned with him moving my hands to acquire the necessary skills to start helping people get better. The following 5 years I was able to discuss my difficult cases with him going over x-rays and taking notes of all his advices. I continued my refinement of the Gonstead method with Dr. Pennebaker (with whom I became a very close and personal friend) following the passing of Dr. Thatcher. With more than 24 years in Gonstead practice I feel I am ready to pass the knowledge I acquired, and this Advanced Seminar is intended to do just that.

This Advanced Seminar is open to only 10 doctors because it will be almost a one-on-one hands-on experience. The goal is exactly what is listed on the original Gonstead Seminar fliers which can be seen on page 121 of the recently published book "Gonstead—The Adjustor" by Matthew Amman: These Seminars are "designed to help YOU become a better Chiropractor ..."

This seminar will be most interactive and will move at the attendee's pace.

The doctors participating are strongly encouraged to bring their full spine x-ray and their Nervoscope so that they can practice properly, adjusting each other.
